Melee Talon (agile, finesse) +18 (Agile, finesse), Damage 2d4+6 S

Flyby Attack ♦♦ The bird flies and makes a talon Strike at any point along the way.

Support Benefit The bird pecks at your foes' eyes when you create an opening. Until the start of your next turn, your Strikes that damage a creature that your bird threatens also deal 2d4 persistent bleed damage, and the target is dazzled until it removes the bleed.

Speed 40 feet; nimble companion

Melee Jaws (finesse) +18 (Finesse), Damage 2d8+6 P

Takedown ♦ Requirements The wolf's last action was a successful jaws Strike. Effect The wolf automatically knocks the target of its jaws Strike prone.

Support Benefit Your wolf tears tendons with each opening. Until the start of your next turn, your Strikes that damage creatures your wolf threatens give the target a -5-foot status penalty to its Speeds for 1 minute (-10 on a critical success).

Additional Feats Advanced Warden, Animal Companion, Beastmaster Dedication, Camouflage, Continual Recovery, Fleet, Foil Senses, Incredible Beastmaster Companion, Incredible Initiative, Initiate Warden, Intimidating Glare, Mature Beastmaster Companion, Medic Dedication, Natural Skill, Quiet Allies, Sneak Attacker, Swift Sneak

Additional Specials Call Companion, Hunter's Edge (Precision), Natural Reflexes, Nature's Edge, Perception Mastery, Skilled (Arcana), Skilled (Intimidation), Sneak Attack, Surprise Attack, Trackless Journey, Warden Spell (Enlarge Companion), Warden Spell (Gravity Weapon)

Warden's Boon ♦ You point out vulnerabilities present in your hunted prey, granting the benefits listed in Hunt Prey and your hunter's edge to an ally until the end of their next turn. Depending on whether you call out or use gestures, this action gains either the auditory or visual trait.

Hunted Shot ♦ (Flourish) Requirements You are wielding a ranged weapon with reload 0. Effect You take two quick shots against the one you hunt. Make two Strikes against your prey with the required weapon. If both hit the same creature, combine their damage for the purpose of resistances and weaknesses. Apply your multiple attack penalty to each Strike normally.

Bon Mot ♦ (Auditory, Concentrate, Emotion, General, Linguistic, Mental, Skill) Prerequisites trained in Diplomacy Effect You launch an insightful quip at a foe, distracting them. Choose a foe within 30 feet and roll a Diplomacy check against the target's Will DC. Critical Success The target is distracted and takes a -3 status penalty to Perception and Will saves for 1 minute. The target can end the effect early with a retort to your Bon Mot. This can either be a single action that has the concentrate trait or an appropriate skill action to frame their retort; typically it needs to use a linguistic Charisma-based skill action. Success As critical success, but the penalty is -2. Critical Failure Your quip is atrocious. You take the same penalty an enemy would take had you succeeded. This ends after 1 minute or if you issue another Bon Mot and succeed.

Doctor's Visitation ♦ (Flourish) Prerequisites Medic Dedication Effect You move to provide immediate care to those who need it. You Stride, then use Battle Medicine or Treat Poison. You can spend 2 actions for Doctor's Visitation to instead Stride and then use either Administer First Aid or Treat Condition (if you have that feat).

Trick Magic Item ♦ (General, Manipulate, Skill) Prerequisites trained in Arcana, Nature, Occultism, or Religion Effect You examine a magic item you normally couldn't use in an effort to fool it and activate it temporarily. You must know what activating the item does, or you can't attempt to trick it. Attempt a check using the skill matching the item's magic tradition, or matching a tradition that has the spell on its list, if you're trying to cast a spell from the item. The relevant skills are Arcana for arcane, Nature for primal, Occultism for occult, Religion for divine, or any of the four for an item that has the magical trait and not a tradition trait. If you activate a magic item that requires a spell attack modifier or spell DC and you don't have proficiency in the relevant statistic, use your level as your proficiency bonus and the highest of your Intelligence, Wisdom, or Charisma modifiers. Success For the rest of the current turn, you can spend actions to activate the item as if you could normally use it. Failure You can't use the item or try to trick it again this turn, but you can try again on subsequent turns. Critical Failure You can't use the item, and you can't try to trick it again until your next daily preparations.

Battle Medicine ♦ (General, Healing, Manipulate, Skill) Prerequisites trained in Medicine Requirements You're holding or wearing a healer's toolkit. Effect You can patch up wounds, even in combat. Attempt a Medicine check with the same DC as for Treat Wounds and restore the corresponding amount of HP; this doesn't remove the wounded condition. As with Treat Wounds, you can attempt checks against higher DCs if you have the minimum proficiency rank. The target is then immune to your Battle Medicine for 1 day. This does not make them immune to, or otherwise count as, Treat Wounds.

Hunt Prey ♦ (Concentrate, Ranger) You designate a single creature as your prey and focus your attacks against that creature. You must be able to see or hear the prey, or you must be tracking the prey during exploration. You gain a +2 circumstance bonus to Perception checks when you Seek your prey and a +2 circumstance bonus to Survival checks when you Track your prey. You also ignore the penalty for making ranged attacks within your second range increment against the prey you're hunting. You can have only one creature designated as your prey at a time. If you use Hunt Prey against a creature when you already have a creature designated, the prior creature loses the designation and the new prey gains the designation. Your designation lasts until your next daily preparations.
