This 12×8×2 in.³ spellbook is a variant of the standard blessed book. It appears to be more like a personal journal than a magical tome. The cover is of dark red leather embossed with runic designs of dragons and roses, and bound with mithral. The spells contained within are written in a curious tight coding, tagged with bookmarks, and accompanied by numerous sidenotes jotted down in red ink. Individual sketches and drawings are stuffed between the pages and in the internal folio. The most curious thing about this spellbook though, is the scent; it smells of roses.

Fyrge: This divination-themed leather ring, embossed with a feather pattern, comes from among the regalia of the ranger Halcyon. Its magic manifests when worn by one affected with the harrowlands taint. On command, it shows the direction to the nearest tavern or inn within 20 miles. (!: targets any harrowland-tainted creature))

Dinoksetiid mk.II: This mage's crossbow variant is a custom model made of rosewood and mithral parts. Inlaid carvings across its sides depict a silver dragon reading a book. Against creatures with spell resistance, the weapon's effective enhancement bonus increases by 1, and it deals an additional 1d6 points of damage. Whenever Aileen casts a spell that requires a ranged touch attack, she may channel it through this crossbow to gain a bonus on the spell's attack roll, damage roll, and caster level check to overcome the target's SR equal to its enhancement bonus against the target creature.

This model is also designed to hold alchemical component cartridges and allows specially constructed metamagic rods to be affixed at the muzzle as a full round action; rods affixed in this way can only be used to power rays cast through the crossbow. Current metamagic rod: le/empower.

Dragonstaves: Each of these magic staves is topped by a sculpture of its titular dragon, and draconic script spirals down their shafts.

Glove of Storing: On command, one item held in the right hand wearing this leather glove disappears. The item can weigh no more than 20 pounds and must be able to be held in one hand. While stored, the item has negligible weight. With a snap of the fingers wearing the glove, the item reappears. Only one item can be stored at a time. Storing or retrieving the item is a free action. The item is shrunk down so small within the palm of the glove that it cannot be seen. Spell durations are not suppressed, but continue to expire. If the glove's effect is suppressed or dispelled, the stored item appears instantly. A glove of storing uses up the wearer's entire hands slot. Currently stored: Dinoksetiid mk.II.

Harp of Night's Hope: This beautifully made concert harp features intarsia butterflies on its walnut frame and column, golden pedals, and silver strings. It produces a warm, mellow tone.

If played for 1 hour during a starry night, it grants restful sleep and heartening, reassuring dreams to all good-aligned creatures within 1,200 feet, granting them a +1 morale bonus on all saving throws and skill checks for 24 hours that does not stack with itself. Also, any creature within range that is subject to an ongoing negative effect (such as possession, a compulsion spell, or similar) can immediately attempt a new saving throw with a +1 bonus to break free of the effect (but only if the effect allows a saving throw to resist it). If played again in the same place on a second consecutive night, it grants another saving throw with a +3 bonus. On a third consecutive night, it grants another saving throw with a +5 bonus and cannot be used again to grant morale bonuses or saving throws for a month.

Liberator's Rod: This bronze +1 merciful light mace is capped with a hollow head formed by sweeping aquiline wings shielding a continual flame. It can be used as a +1 merciful light mace, but while its merciful property is suppressed by the wielder so is the continual flame. On command, the wielder may touch a creature that has failed a save against a charm, compulsion, or possession effect. Doing so grants that creature a new saving throw to end the effect; if this new save fails, the effect remains and the rod's touch cannot further affect it. Once per day on command, the wielder can use break enchantment (CL 9).

Looter's Satchel: The satchel functions as a bag of holding (type I). As long as the satchel is not overloaded, the bearer can hold it over an adjacent dead or unconscious creature and speak a command word; then the satchel removes any magic items from the creature's person and deposits them into the bag, from smallest to largest, until overloaded, at which point it stops gathering. This process takes 1 uninterrupted round. If the bearer moves into a different space while the satchel is gathering items in this way, no items are moved into the satchel.

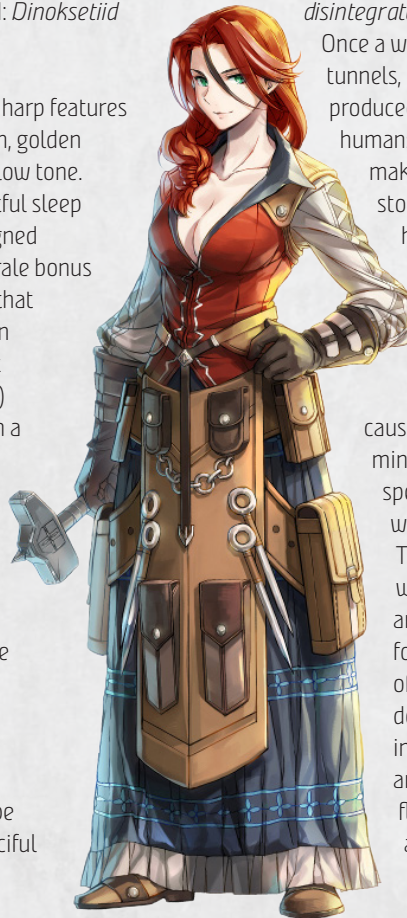

Rhosyndelyn: This masterwork celtic harp is crafted of maple in the body and spruce in the soundboard, and strung with mithral alloy wire. Aileen seems more beautiful when she plays; for as long as she's holding the harp, she gains a +2 insight bonus on all Charisma ability checks and Charisma-based skill checks, as with the spell tap inner beauty.

Once per day, a certain tune strung in this harp negates any attacks made against inanimate construction (walls, roof, floor, and so on) within 300 feet for 30 minutes. This includes the effects of a horn of blasting, a disintegrate spell, or attacks from a ram or similar siege weapon.

Once a week, it can cause construction of buildings, mines, tunnels, ditches, etc. for as long as it's played. The effect produced in 10 minutes of playing is equal to the work of 100 humans laboring for 1 day. Each hour after the first, the harpist makes a DC 18 Perform (String) check; if it fails, she must stop and cannot magically build with it again until a week has passed. — Aura moderate transmutation; CL 6th; Weight 5 lbs.

Rhosyngweith: This housing can be folded up into a 3-inch-wide cube of lacquered wood for easy transport. Once per day, the command word "lonnaigh" causes this block of wood to unfold in the space of 10 minutes into a 10×15×8 ft.³ shack as per the secure shelter spell that lasts for up to 16 hours or until the command word "plygwch" is spoken.

The shack contains an alchemist's lab, a crafting workbench and anvil, a fireplace, filled bookshelves, an armchair, and a single bunk bed above a writing desk with four vials of ink, two writing quills, and 50 blank sheets of paper that are created anew with each unfolding. The door, shutters, and even chimney are secure against intrusion, the former two being secured with arcane lock and the latter by an iron grate at the top and a narrow flue; they are also protected by an alarm spell. Finally, an unseen servant named Pwyll is conjured to provide service for the duration of the shelter. — Aura faint evocation; CL 8th; Weight 3 lbs.

Rhosynwgwisg: Embroidered images of a garden with cherry trees and red rose bushes adorn this robe, tailored to the standards of the sleeveless sennarii kimono from durable arcane fabric. The wearer can move and reposition these images on the kimono at will.

The robe grants its wearer a +4 bonus on all caster level checks and can also function as a restrictive bag of holding (type I) that allows only clockwork constructs to be placed within it. While a construct is stored inside the robe, an allegorical form of its role temporarily manifests as another embroidered design among the kimono's other images.

— Aura moderate conjuration; CL 10th; Weight 1 lb.

Scabbard of Many Blades: This scabbard can hold multiple melee weapons (up to four two-handed) in an extradimensional space, including weapons that would not normally fit in any kind of sheath. Two one-handed or light melee weapons can fit in each two-handed weapon slot. Only weapons designed to be used by creatures the same size as the wearer or smaller can be kept in the scabbard. It can't be used to store shields, gauntlets, improvised weapons, or wands, but can store rods (as one-handed) and magic staves (as two-handed).

When Aileen draws a weapon from the scabbard, if she does not lose her grip on it, as a move action she can have it switch places with another weapon in the scabbard. If she loses her grip on it, that weapon can't switch places until it has been sheathed in and drawn again.

Currently stored: brassword dragonstaff, copperhead dragonstaff, liberator's rod, silverheart dragonstaff, sword of the everbright.

Sword of the Everbright: This 3'11"-long blade, forged of a bright steel alloy, with a double edge, elegant guard and simple pommel, bears a phrase in sennarii elven: "far from home/a lonely road/a promise". Unbeknownst to anyone not aware of the Everbright and their quest, this sword hums and glows near morgonljucht ore, and is also the conduit that tethers Aileen with her home world.

> Arcanist Exploits

Dimensional Slide (Su): Aileen can expend 1 point from her arcane reservoir to create a dimensional crack that she can step through to reach another location. Once per round as part of a move or withdraw action, she can teleport up to 10 feet per arcanist level to any location she can see. This counts as 5 feet of movement, and does not provoke attacks of opportunity; any other movement provokes as normal.

Item Crafting: Aileen gains Craft Construct as a bonus feat.

Quick Study (Su): Aileen can prepare a spell in place of an existing spell of the same level by expending 1 point from her arcane reservoir as a full-round action that provokes attacks of opportunity. She must be able to reference her spellbook when using this ability.

Metamagic Knowledge: Aileen gains Still Spell as a bonus feat.

Greater Metamagic Knowledge: Aileen gains Intensify Spell as a bonus feat. Each morning, when she prepares her spells, she can expend 1 point from her arcane reservoir to exchange this bonus feat for another metamagic feat, as long as she meets the prerequisites of the new feat.

Greater Counterspell (Su): Aileen can expend 1 point from her arcane reservoir to counterspell as an immediate action by expending an available arcanist spell slot equal to or higher than the level of the spell being cast, and rolling a dispel check as if using dispel magic. If the spell is one that she has prepared, she receives a +5 bonus on the check. Counterspelling in this way does not trigger any feats or other abilities that normally occur when a spellcaster successfully counters a spell.

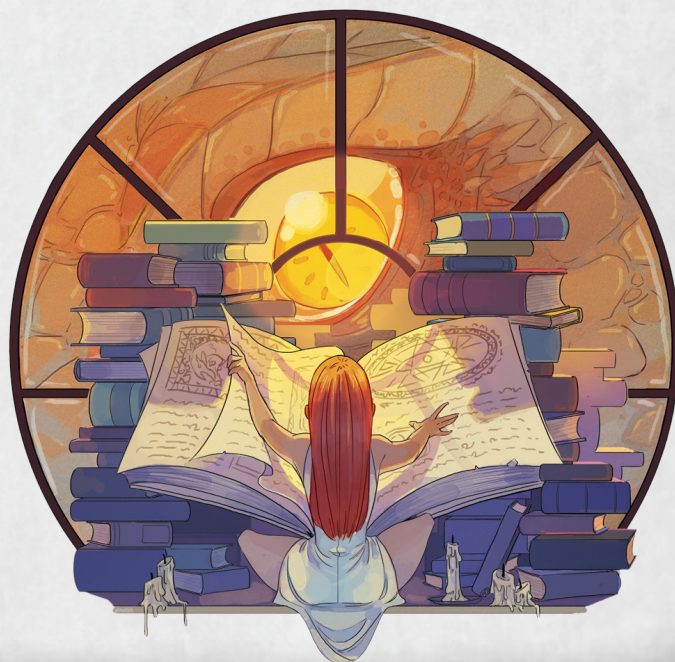

> Special Attacks

Arcane Reservoir (Sp): Aileen has an innate pool of magical energy that she can draw upon to fuel her arcanist exploits and enhance her spells. Each day when preparing spells, her arcane reservoir gains a number of points equal to 3 + 1/2 her arcanist level. Any points she had from the previous day are lost. She can also regain these points through the consume spells class feature, up to the maximum amount of 3 + her arcanist level; points gained in excess are lost. Also, Aileen can expend 1 point from her arcane reservoir as a free action whenever she casts an arcanist spell, to increase the caster level by 2 or increase the spell's DC by 2; she can expend no more than 1 point on a given spell in this way.

Consume Spells (Su): Aileen can expend an arcanist spell slot as a move action, just as if she had used it to cast a spell. She can use this ability a number of times per day equal to her Cha modifier (minimum 1). Doing this adds a number of points to her arcane reservoir equal to the level of the spell slot consumed. She cannot consume cantrips in this way.

Intense Spells (Su): Whenever Aileen casts an evocation spell that deals hit point damage, she adds 1/2 her arcanist level to the damage (minimum +1). This bonus only applies once to a spell, not once per missile or ray, and cannot be split between multiple missiles or rays. This bonus damage is not increased by Empower Spell or similar effects, and is of the same type as the spell. At 20th level, whenever she casts an evocation spell she can roll twice to penetrate a creature's SR.

Versatile Evocation (Su): When Aileen casts an evocation spell that does acid, cold, electricity, or fire damage, she may change the damage dealt to one of the other four energy types. The descriptor of the spell changes to match the new energy type. Non-damaging effects remain unchanged unless the new energy type invalidates them (GM fiat). She can use this a number of times per day equal to 3 + her Int modifier.

Elemental Manipulation (Su): Aileen can emit a 30-foot aura that transforms magical energy. She chooses an energy type from acid, cold, electricity, and fire, and a second type to transform it into. Any magical source of energy of this type with a caster level equal to or less than her arcanist level is altered to the chosen energy type within the aura (this includes supernatural effects from creatures with HD no greater than her arcanist level). She can use this for a number of rounds per day equal to her arcanist level. The rounds do not need to be consecutive.

> Sir Felix

Cat's Luck (Su): Sir Felix adds his Charisma modifier as a luck bonus on all his saving throws. Once per day as a standard action, he can also grant this bonus to one ally within 30 feet for 10 minutes.

Heroic Strength (Su): Once per day, Sir Felix can grant himself a +8 enhancement bonus to Strength for 1 minute.

Spectral Mist (Su): Sir Felix can assume an eerie, mist-like form roughly the size and shape of a cat. This ability has the same effect as a gaseous form spell, except he retains his own DR and supernatural abilities and can move at his normal speed. He can remain in mist form up to 5 minutes per day. This duration does not have to be consecutive, but it must be used in 1-minute increments.

Able Assistant (Ex): Aileen treats Sir Felix as if he possessed the Cooperative Crafting feat and all her item creation feats and craft skills.

Deliver Touch Spells (Su) / Deliver Aid (Ex): When delivering a harmless touch spell to a willing creature or using the aid another action, Sir Felix can move before and after the action in question as long as his total movement does not exceed his speed.

Aide to All (Ex): Sir Felix can use the aid another action as a full-round action to grant up to three adjacent creatures bonuses from this action. Each bonus can apply to the same action/check or to different ones.
